

Industrial First Aid Attendant

---

Roles and Responsibilities

The Industrial First Aid Attendant's main role on location is to provide emergency response to crews in the event of an injury, illness or emergency situation. The Industrial First Aid Attendant's tasks include, but not limited to:

- Maintaining all tickets current
- Keeping up with all protocols of Advanced First Aid
- Obeying and following first aid protocols set out by ruling government agencies
- Collecting and maintaining confidential information, i.e.: all pertinent patient medical information
- Attending to workers when they become injured or suddenly ill
- Making transport decision of injured worker to health care facility
- Familiarizing oneself with WCB documentation, OH&S regulations and all pertinent first aid reports
- Maintaining proper head count of personnel on location
- Being an active participant in all safety meetings
- Ensure that all personnel on location have proper documentation
- Follow all Health and Safety rules
- Operating company vehicles and using company equipment in a safe and appropriate manner

Character Traits

Industrial First Aid Attendants will be working in close proximity to crews and must maintain an air of "friendly professionalism". They must also show the following character traits:

- Confidence
- Responsible
- Practical
- Patient
- Ability of relating to wide range of individuals
- Being extremely safety conscious
- Remaining calm in emergencies
- Ability to direct workers in the event of a medical emergency
- Have effective communication skills
- Have effective problem solving and decision making skills

Physical Requirements

Industrial First Aid attendants should possess a reasonable level of fitness. He/she must have good observation skills. They should be able to work long hours, work many consecutive shifts both day and night shifts. First Aid Attendants must have normal color vision as many safety systems are color coded.

Qualifications

- Must possess current Advanced First Aid Ticket, equivalent or higher
- Class 5 Drivers licence
- Current (within 3 months) clean drivers abstract
- Current H2S ticket
- WHMIS and TDG tickets
- Petroleum Safety Training (PST)

This is a safety sensitive position and the candidate must be able to pass a pre-employment drug test.